COULDN'T TRUST MYSELF... TO TALK ANY LONGER.

I DON'T WANT ANYBODY TO KNOW...WHAT I'VE BECOME.

NOT ANYBODY. EVER!

WELL...GUESS IT'S TIME TO GET ON THE STICK.

NOT MUCH TO PACK. GOOD THING I WAS ALWAYS TOO BROKE TO BE A FASHION-PLATE.

AND THUS, PETER PARKER LEAVES FOR EXOTIC LONG ISLAND... OR DOES HE?

THINK, MAN. USE THAT FINE, ANALYTICAL MIND THAT GOT YOU INTO THIS MESS.

CAB RIDE...TRAIN RIDE... LUGGING HEAVY SUITCASES. ONE STRAY BREEZE, FLAPPIN' MY COAT OPEN...

...AND IT'S GOOD-BYE, SECRET IDENTITY.

SO, SINCE I CAN'T CARRY A PHONE BOOTH AROUND ON MY BACK...

LOOKS LIKE IT'D BETTER BE SPIDER-MAN WHO MAKES HIS LONG ISLAND DEBUT.

SO LONG, SWINGIN' BACHELOR PAD. WHEN MY ROOMIE GETS HOME, TELL HIM I'M SORRY I LEFT SUCH A CLUTTER.

WHO KNOWS... MAYBE I'LL BE BACK SOON TO GIVE HIM A HAND...

...AND A HAND... AND A HAND...

AH, SPIDEY... YOU'D BE NOTHING WITHOUT YOUR SENSE-HUMOR.

AND THAT'S JUST WHAT YOU ARE...! NOTHING!!

HUH?

NOW
WHAT

~WHEW!~
LUCKY I'M

WISE UP, WEBHEAD.
HOW MANY TIMES
DOES A WALL HAVE

IT'S THESE

THEY'RE FOULING

TIMING, SOME-THING
FIERCE.

WELL, GET
USED TO 'EM,
KID.

THEY
JUST BE AROUND FOR A LONG,
LONG WHILE.

I GUESS--I SHOULD HAVE PRACTICED
WITH ALL SIX ARMS--
BEFORE I MADE LIKE KA-ZAR.

BUT, MY

TELLS ME
IT'S NEARLY

EVEN THE FRESH-RISEN SUN SEEMS TO STARE DOWN AT ME--A WHITE, CONDEMNING EYE.

THEN--THERE IS BUT ONE THING THAT I CAN DO--

--AND THAT I SHALL.

A LAST, UP-LUNGING EFFORT: AND MORNING WINDS LOFT HOLLOWED BONES TOWARD AN EMPTY BECKONING BELTRY--

THERE SEEMS TO BE--NO ONE ABOUT.

THUS, I CAN SLEEP THE DEEP SLEEP ONCE MORE--

--UNTIL IT BE NIGHT.

THE MARVEL COMICS GROUP, SECOND FLOOR 625 MADISON AV., NEW YORK, N. Y. 10022

Dear Stan,

I knew something was different with SPIDER-MAN #96, and then I suddenly saw on issue #97 the lack of the Comics Code stamp of approval. My first impression was that you had left it off, but you would leave off the cover before you would normally leave off the stamp. Then I went through a couple of fanzines checking for the entire listing of the comics code, and checked down the list, and then I saw it, the plot on drugs. The portrayal of Harry Osborn as a pill-popper! And in issue #96, the death of the young black American by a drug overdose! In neither issue were drugs described as a desirable thing. So, my congratulations on defiance of the comics code, but more important doing something that will cut a little out of your pocket books, but will also help in the improvement of mankind.

You are showing the mettle of the man that took a chance in 1961, a chance that changed the course of the superhero comic book. And this latest achievement proves you still have it. Roy Thomas stated that he felt the campaign to revise the code was unnecessary, but when something like this is stopped, then I think something should be done. Actually, I think, in the long run, you really were not hurt, because you showed what a good 60% of our high school and college students are doing.

I must admit my faith in your sincerity was diminished when the Silver Surfer was stopped. I can remember when about three years ago I was afflicted with comic fever, or more appropriately Marvel Comics Fever. I pounced on every issue of Silver Surfer because I liked the mild amounts of dissent philosophy he was always stating, and actually I think he was pretty fundamental in developing my changing thoughts, as I can remember when I would sit and think a long time about what he had stated. And what that means is, that you can use comic books as a very constructive educational program. I feel comics could outdo teachers' 100 to 1. Because a teacher has to sit up and say "there has been no proof grass can hurt you." "downers and uppers won't hurt you if you do not take them in excess," and then he says, "but you still shouldn't take them, because an overdose is highly dangerous," the student thinks "I will never take an overdose." But comics can very vividly show just what an overdose is, just what a downer freak is. Comics have a great influence on kids, if you use them. So, keep it up, Stan, you were first in bringing a partial reality to comics. Be the first in using this partial reality for the betterment of mankind. After all, there should be more to life than making a buck off of something that could change ideas and formulate thinking in the start of each and every generation. You have a soapbox with hundreds of thousands of eager listeners, Stan. Use it. People ask how they can help stop drug abuse, pollution, and war. Well in your hands is something that can help more than, probably, any other thing. It's okay to make money with it, but like I said before, there is more to life than making a buck. Use yours to help the betterment of us all. Thanks.

Ron Sorrells,
Medford, Oregon

We'll try, Ron! And readers like you spurring us on makes our task a lot easier and considerably more gratifying. Right on!

Dear Stan and Co:

From time to time (and that is most of the time) you have really gotten everyone's favorite webslinger into quite a fix. But this current dilemma is by far the worst of all possible dilemmas.

A few months ago he indirectly causes the death of George Stacy, who just happens to be the father of Gwen, the girl he loves. And we all know how much trouble that caused. But issue #96 really takes the cake.

It begins naturally enough with Peter reviewing the disastrous trip to London. All that trip accomplished was to further the rift between Gwen and Peter and to arouse Joe Robertson's suspicions.

Okay—you did manage to get started in the right direction. Peter actually attended classes, and for once he decided to take a reliable job. All seemed well until you really dropped the big one on us. Ole Green Goblin himself returns. Now I ask you, with all his other problems, did Spider-Man really need this one? Of course not; but that has never stopped Marvel, yet. Well, now that you have brought back the Green Goblin, what are you going to do with him?

The last time Green Goblin appeared, the battle royal between him and Spider-Man ended with a case of amnesia. You can't pull that trick twice. Also you just can't have Spider-Man kill him; after all, he is his own roommate's father. I can see it all now; Norman Osborn's death as the Green Goblin causes a rift between Peter and Harry. Nor can you have the Green Goblin escape to fight another day. His absence as Norman Osborn would cause too much of a hullabaloo. And the wrong people would become suspicious.

So you really have boxed Spider-Man in now. The Green Goblin knows his secret identity. And since he knows that he really is Norman Osborn, how can Spider-Man help but pull his punches? This could get dangerous; especially if the foe is the Green Goblin.

All I can say is that I hope you have left Spidey a way out. I'd hate to have to face each month without him.

Shirley Gorman, Grande E Box 14
Hereford, Texas 79045

You won't have to, Shirley, baby—at least not until that far-off day when Aunt May finds the fountain of youth, drinking from which turns her into the partner of one of our old favorite heroes, Ant-Man (Would 'ja believe Aunt-Lady? Ouch!). And as for our favorite neighborhood wall-crawler's problems with the Green Goblin, you know by now that they've been solved. (To your swingin' satisfaction, we hope.) But if you think the double-G gave Spidey a pain, wait! You see what's waiting for him in the months ahead. We don't want to give away any surprises, but we think we can say with all honesty that they'll make his past trials and tribulations seem as simple as Woody Allen describing his new movie, "Bananas." (Okay, Mr. A., there's your free plug. Now how about giving us your inside tips on how to become a sex-symbol like yourself?!?)

We'd like to test your art talent before somebody messes it up.

The more you like to draw, the more problems you have.

Sometimes people encourage you to draw for the wrong reasons, like keeping you out of mischief. Or they tell you to stop drawing and pay attention to algebra. Or insist the only way to draw a flower pot or a motorcycle or a bathing beauty is their way of drawing a flower pot or a motorcycle or a bathing beauty.

We at Famous Artists School have a two-fold solution.

objective test that measures your basic drawing ability. Your sense of color. Design. Imagination. (It shows how good an artist you could be. Not how good you happen to be right now.)

Then, if your test reveals talent, you'll be eligible for, but not obligated to, the second part of our solution: at-home training in an art course created by famous artists like Norman Rockwell, Bernie Fuchs, Lorraine Fox, Bob Peak, Tom Allen, Al Capp. Of course, the famous artists themselves do not personally work on your drawings, but each assignment you send the School does receive the individual attention of an instructor who is himself a working professional artist.

Your instructor doesn't knock your doodles. He helps you build on them, and free your pencils, pens, paints, charcoal sticks, and pastels to say exactly what you want them to.

He encourages you to get as much imagination as possible into your flower pots and bathing beauties.

And he won't let you get away with so-so work when you could be doing better.

We suggest you mail the coupon at the left for your free talent test. Soon.

The longer you wait, the less talent there may be to test.

SOME QUESTIONS ANSWERED

- Q. How is it possible? It seems incredible to be able to get all the equipment shown above in just ten kits—at only $4.95 per kit!
- A. The direct-to-you, "no middleman", club plan is just part of the answer. The other key is ABSCLUB's specially designed multi-use equipment. For example: The Microprojector quickly and easily converts into the Spectroscope, Photo Enlarger and Cloud Chamber Illuminator. Similarly, the Transit doubles as a Telescope Mount. Such multi-purpose design... plus club plan economy... makes possible this all-science program at a price everyone can afford.
- Q. May members choose the order in which they receive their kits?
- A. Yes. With the first kit members receive a list of the equipment and projects contained in each of the remaining nine kits. With this information they are able to choose the kit sequence that best suits their particular interest.
- Q. Are special tools or skills required?
- A. No. All you need are pliers and screwdriver. No soldering—new connectors make fast, firm joints. All equipment easy to use.
